An instructor will make sure that you learn the basics of kayaking, but they will also ensure you are fitted with the right sized equipment. In order for the whole thing to work, everyone needs to participate, so each member of the camp is a member of a larger kayaking team. If you do not live in the area, ask around! Tie down any gear or supplies so they are not lost in the event of a flip. Place your paddle out of your way, but make sure it is still within reach when you get in the kayak.
